

ONE BAD INNING KILLS ALL CHANCES OF ASAHIS BEATING THE MAUI TEAM

The fourth slipst defeat for the Japanese, although the inning opened well for them with Soares' long fly straight into the center fielder's glove. Bal, however, landed for a terrific drive along the left foul line, the ball rolling back of the parked autos, and the runner rooting out third by the time the ball was in the diamond again. Murikami bungled Kanna's grounder, and the score came across. Robinson, who had on his batting clothes yesterday, drove a sharp liner over second and into the outfield. Then, in an attempt to catch the man off second, T. Moriyama turned and whirled wide of the baseman, the ball going out to center, who heaved it in the general direction of third. The third baseman never walked out of his tracks to

MONEY WASTED.

Don't waste your money buying strengthening plasters. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is cheaper and better. Dampen a piece of flannel with it and bind it over the affected parts and it will relieve the pain and soreness. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

The object of the meeting is to obtain full knowledge of the numbers who are interested in the different classes before they are completely formed and opened on October 1. W. K. Castle has donated the swimming park at his Waikiki residence to the members of the association and here Miss Tupper, the physical director, will hold swimming classes several times each week. This will be a great advantage for with its use many girls who would be otherwise too timid to attempt to swim will not be held back by fear of ridicule from the spectators along the beach.

Miss Erickson will organize and teach a bible class beginning October 1, and as there have been a number of applicants for a French class, it has become one of the possibilities. Miss McClain will have charge of the millinery classes and Miss Waite, of the Normal School, will teach domestic science.

The suggestion that has been made in some quarters is that Regatta Day be set for about the middle of August, so that the winning crew could get to the Coast in plenty of season for the big regatta of the year in those waters, held on September 9—Admission Day. This seems to be the

It was decided that the league should consist of one team from Maui, one from Kauai and two from Honolulu, and that every team would play four matches of three games each.

The best kind of exercise is the kind that makes you forget that you are exercising—in other words, play, says a physician. It's a good scheme to have some more or less strenuous game for a hobby, golf or bowling or tennis or archery—anything that appeals to you and affords exercise with interest. But this is not saying that systematic exercise is not a good thing, too.

Echoes of the races were many, and Saturday night Honolulu drew home, winners and losers alike joining in a big celebration. The streets and cafes were alive with people, the show resembling the Christmas Eve festivities here, or the New Year's Eve blow-out in other cities. The dance given by the boat clubs on the Young roof garden was a success both socially and financially, more than a thousand people attending during the evening. Everybody had a good time

The crews that competed in the various races showed no ill effects from their hard grind, but all were glad to slack up after the work.

The Alameda crew members and the ladies of the party are planning a jaunt to the volcano before returning to the Coast, and they will probably leave here for Hilo next Wednesday.

AN BUSY ON ALLEYS

Delegates from each of the islands were elected by the bowlers, Ed Dinert being named to represent Maui, C. Maer, Kausi and A. T. Wisdom, Oahu.

The Honolulu team will be captained by White and Stetow respectively and each of the local organizations will be allowed two subs, while the other two teams will be permitted to carry five extra men. This division is made because on Maui and Kausi the bowlers are widely separated and it is often impossible to get the same teams together for two consecutive matches.

This series is to be rolled in addition to the regular Y. M. C. A. winter tournament, which is to start in the near future. In this competition a radical change will be made from last year, three-man teams being entered instead of five. This, it is figured, will speed up the separate matches, and will make it more interesting by having a greater number of teams in the contest. Also, it will not necessitate working so many dummies.

COMELY MISS TO BECOME PROFESSIONAL JOCKEY

The first woman professional jockey is Fraulin Buford, daughter of Jockey J. Buford. The girl, who is young and pretty though small, has applied for a jockey license at Budapest, Hungary. She intends to begin her turf career at the Makyar races. Miss Buford is 18 years old and has been fully trained for the career of a jockey by her father.

It is difficult for a woman to preserve her respect for her husband when she sees him get rattled making a public speech.
